Fundamentals of Leasing/Financing

Amerifund, Inc. specializes in equipment leasing and financing Start-Up Business. We are more receptive to providing financing for you and are more creative than normal bank or lending institutions.

Lease financing is probably the most popular form of financing used by small businesses today. However, it is too often misunderstood and too often rejected when it may be the best and easiest form of financing to use.

The following information will help you understand Lease Financing and why it may be the best alternative for you to consider.

1. Acquire Equipment without tying up capital. Most other types of financing usually require substantial down payments. Our leases generally require only (2) payments in advance. We also offer financing on 100% of your costs, including shipping and installation. Your lease will include everything it takes to put the equipment to work for you with minimal upfront costs.

2. Would you pay your employees in advance? How about two, three or four years in advance? Paying cash for equipment that will be used over several years is like paying an employee for years of service (IN ADVANCE). Leasing is like hiring an employee. You pay the employee a wage for the work they produce during a given period. Leasing provides the same option by letting you pay for the use of equipment as it produces profits and revenue each business day...over time, while preserving your cash reserves.

3. Protect your lines of Credit. Neither a lease nor the payments have any impact on your personal credit lines. Why not preserve your borrowing power for other business opportunities, unforeseen expenses or emergencies. Your lease payment is considered to be a rental and is fixed for the term of the lease which may allow for tax deductions.

Frequently Asked Questions

Is a lease different from a loan?

A loan makes you and your company appear more exposed or leveraged by placing the debt on both your credit report and your balance sheet. A lease does NOT get placed on your credit report and can be viewed as a rental, resulting in a tax savings to you. A loan usually requires 20% down or collateral, leasing usually is (2)Two payments in advance as a down payment.

What is the most important benefit of leasing?

The use of the equipment!! Profits and revenue come from the operating use of equipment, NOT the capitalization of it.

Will I actually own my equipment?

Yes ! At the end of your lease term, you can exercise your buyout option, which is generally $1.00.

The Lease Application Process

(What happens from Application > Approval > Installation)

1. Once your Lease Application (Credit App) see next page, and all required documentation is received in our office via fax or On-Line www.amerifund.cc we will contact you to review the content.
2. Upon review with you, the Application is then submitted for approval. We normally have an answer for you within 24 hours.
3. Periodically we may need additional supporting information and will contact you upon that information being needed.
4. Once your Application is approved, we contact you to determine what Terms and Programs best suit your individual needs or situation.
5. We will at that time, contact your equipment vendors and get invoices from them to determine the amount of funds that you require (including shipping and installation if applicable).
6. Your Leasing Documents will be couriered to you (Overnight Service) also a fact sheet included, explaining any details necessary to finalize and a Pre-Paid Overnight Return Envelope for the Documents to return to us.
7. Once your Documents are received back including a Deposit Check (Generally 1st and last payments in advance) we then place your orders with all of your equipment vendors and they begin shipping whenever you are ready.
8. After all equipment is delivered and installed we contact you for a verbal approval. We want to make sure your equipment is installed and working properly before funds are released.
9. Upon your verbal approval... Your vendor will be paid and your lease will begin.
